My dear Professor Gray

A few days ago a package was forwarded to me, containing a set of some of your works for our botanical museum. I need not say that the gift, as valuable as it was unexpected, is gratefully accepted, and will I hope be turned to good use. I am not aware whether you ^{have} all the works published by Surlaire; if not, we might present you with some, viz: the Flores italicae, the voyage to Scandinavia, the monograph on Columba.

With best regards believe me

Sincerely yours

J. Carnel
